

THE LATEST AND BEST CIGAR SCHEME.

YOUR MONEY'S WORTH!

Full Long Havana Filler! Strictly Hand-made!
No Moulds Used!

UNQUESTIONABLY THE FINEST NICKEL CIGAR MADE

SOLD BY

IN INDIANAPOLIS.

J. B. Dill, cor. N. Y. st. and Mass. ave.
W. M. Haag, 82 Mass. ave.
Walter S. Brown, 90 Ft. Wayne ave.
H. C. Fisk, 500 N. Alabama st.
B. Brehm, 197 Christian ave.
Pomeroy & Huder, 60 N. Penn. st.
I. L. Klingensmith, cor. College ave. and Ninth st.
E. C. Dearman, 43 Mass. ave.
L. C. Haag, 90 N. Delaware st.
F. C. Hoover, 150 Mass. ave.
Jno. R. Barrie, 67 N. Pennsylvania st.
W. H. Burke & Co., 12 N. Penn st.

Fred Stahlhut, 190 Mass. ave.
C. G. Weiss, 2 Hill ave.
G. J. Bergener, 603 E. Washington st.
Myres & Claman, 150 Noble st.
Jos. Perry, 149 E. Washington st.
Morrison & Fetters, 199 S. East st.
W. N. Short, 49 S. Illinois st.
Chas. H. Wood, 41 N. Indiana st.
J. C. French, 99 W. Washington st.
Wm. H. Rathert, 99 N. Illinois st.
W. J. Hamilton, 414 S. Meridian st.
C. H. Broich & Co., 383 S. Meridian st.
Geo. F. Borst, cor. Meridian st. and Russell ave.
Jos. M. Dwyer, 425 Madison ave.

Otto Schopp, 302 S. Illinois st.
Grover Drug Co., cor. Ill. and South sts.
W. E. Alford, 24 N. Meridian st.
H. A. Walker, 66 E. Court st.
J. G. Mueller, s. w. cor. Wash. and East.
F. W. Pantzer, 54 W. Washington st.
C. T. Bedford, 2 Indiana ave.
Geo. W. Jones, 47 Indiana ave.
J. D. Gault, 201 Indiana ave.
J. M. Scott, 54 Indiana ave.
F. E. Wolcott, 378 W. New York st.
L. S. Stockman, cor. Illinois and Michigan sts.
J. A. Layman, cor. Noble and Fletcher ave.

Chris Schetter, 300 S. Penn. st.
Frank Erdelmeyer, 480 N. New Jersey st.
A. A. Kline, 46 N. Delaware st.
Chas. E. Barnum, 452 Mass. ave.
Howard A. Benton, 49 N. Illinois st.
J. N. Hurty, 102 N. Penn. st.
J. W. Thompson, 91 Illinois st.
Geo. Weiger & Co., 6 W. Louisiana st.
Gus Fuller, cor. West and Michigan sts.
W. H. Bradbury, 15 S. Illinois st.
J. A. Dodson, Illinois and Seventh sts.
L. Schumeyer, Tenn. and Fifth sts.
L. A. Gable, Seventh and Illinois.
Frank H. Carter, 300 Mass. ave.
Wm. Selking, 13 S. Meridian st.

ELSEWHERE.

Thad Nance, Tipton.
A. A. Laird, Frankfort.
Simon Rosenthal, Tipton.
Adam Ehrhardt, Greensburg.
Chas. Hugo, Rushville.
W. S. Harvey, Greensburg.
Ed Jones, Milroy.
Dan Murphy, Rushville.
Jno. B. Cochran, Shelbyville.
O. Ziegler, Shelbyville.

Chas. Huffman, Shelbyville.
Mar. Quigley, Greensburg.
A. F. Heineman, Valparaiso.
G. W. Goff, Rensselaer.
Geo. L. Davis, New Castle.
Donnel & Donnel, Frankfort.
Charles Gross, Muncie.
W. H. Bireley, Carlos City.
A. W. Binford, Crawfordsville.
S. B. Eckels, Franklin.
D. H. Miller, Franklin.
Theo. E. Otto, Columbus.
Nye & Co., Crawfordsville.
Hoffat, Morgan & Co., Crawfordsville.
Thos. W. Lytle, Marion.

JAS. R. ROSS & CO., INDIANAPOLIS

SOLE AGENTS FOR INDIANA.

HOW THEY GOT THEIR NAMES

Counties of the Hoosier State That Bear the Names of America's Early Heroes.

Some Interesting Incidents Connected with the Selection of Titles for Some of the Counties—Bits of State History.

Three bright and lovely school ma'ams were engaged yesterday in turning the leaves of the "Complete" Geography of the Beckhold-Williams series. They were on a hunt, and it was by no means a still hunt, for some fact which they could not find in this wonderfully constructed book. "I certainly thought I should find it in the five pages devoted to Indiana," said one of them quite out of humor. "It's just too bad."

"Oh, I'm not surprised at all," spoke up another, "though I thought I would help you look just for the fun of it. Nobody ever finds anything in that geography."

It seems a little girl in the school had asked the question who Ripley county was named after, and another little girl, not to be behindhand, wanted to know how, and when, and where Spencer county received its name. The young ladies concluded to refer the matter to the principal of the school. That person, doubtless without thinking, took up the "Complete Geography" and was about to turn to the article on Indiana. "Ha, ha, ha!" chorused the maidens, "it's just what we did. It isn't there." They were about to appoint a committee of inquiry to wait upon Superintendent Jones and ask him determined to chase the information to its last hiding place. Fortunately one of the young ladies has a nice young man, and he took it upon himself to get the desired information. In his search he came upon a rare old book called "The Indiana Gazetteer, or Topographical Dictionary of the State of Indiana," published in 1849—forty years ago—by E. Chamberlain, Indianapolis. In this book he found a great deal of forgotten lore, among other things, how most of the counties came to have the names they now bear.

The names of those counties bearing the names of signers of the Declaration of Independence, of Presidents and heroes of the Revolutionary war are Adams, Carroll, DeKalb, Fayette, Franklin, Greene, Hancock, Knox, Kosciusko, Madison, Marion, Marshall (the first Chief Justice of the United States), Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Putnam, Putnam, Starke, Steuben, Sullivan, Warren (who died on Bunker Hill), Washington, Wayne. Jay county was named in honor of the celebrated statesman and patriot, Jasper, in honor of the humble but country-loving Sergeant Jasper, of South Carolina, who lost his life on Fort Mifflin; Johnson, after Hon. John Johnson, one of the first judges of the Supreme Court of the State; Lagrange, after the residence of General Lafayette in France; Lake, from its local situation on Lake Michigan; LaPorte, so-called from the French name of the large and beautiful prairie which it includes, LaPorte, meaning "the door," the broad, open entrance to the State; Lawrence, in honor of Capt. James Lawrence, of the frigate Chesapeake, who was killed in battle with the British frigate Shannon, leaving as his last words, "Don't give up the ship"; Martin, so named after Major Martin, of Newport, Ky.; Miami, from the tribe of Indians that once possessed that and adjoining parts of the State; Ohio, after the river on whose borders it is situated; Orange, from the county in North Carolina in which many of the first residents had previously lived; Parke, for Benjamin Parke, the first member of Congress for the territory, and afterward a territorial and then a district judge; Perry, in honor of the gallant Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, who whipped the British on Lake Erie, in the war of 1812, and sent scolding down the corridors of frame the laconic dispatch: "We have met the enemy, and they are ours," etc.; Pike, for Gen. Zebulon M. Pike, who fell at the capture of York, Canada, April 22, 1813; Porter, after Commodore David Porter. Randolph is said to have been named as the youngest of the settlers after the county in North Carolina, from which they had emigrated, though it is said also that the name was given in honor of Thomas Randolph, Attorney-general of the Territory, who was killed in the battle of Tippecanoe. Other heroes of that battle-field are also honored with county names. Bartholomew is named after Lieut.-Col. Joseph Bartholomew, who was severely wounded when he was in command of a battalion of infantry; Daviess, after Joseph Hamilton Daviess, distinguished lawyer, who was killed in the battle; Dubois, for Toussaint Dubois, who had charge of the guides and spies in the Tippecanoe campaign; Owen, for Col. Abraham Owen, of Kentucky, who was killed while serving as a volunteer aid to General Harrison; Spencer, after Captain Spencer, of Harrison county, who fell in the battle; Tipton, in honor of Gen. John Tipton, who was long a public man in Indiana, dying in 1838; Warren, after Gen. Joseph Warren, who fell at the head of his company; White, for Col. Isaac White, of Gallatin county, Illinois, who volunteered his services as a private and fell in battle at the side of Major Daviess.

Allen county receives its name from Col. John Allen, a distinguished Kentucky lawyer, who fell at the battle of River View; Boone, after Daniel Boone, whose love of the forest and whose wonderful strategy with the red men will make the name of his adventures a favorite topic of generations yet to come; Brown, for Gen. Jacob Brown, one of the heroes of the war of 1812; Clark, for Gen. George Clark, who was killed at the battle of Tippecanoe; Crawford, after Col. Wm. Crawford, the land agent of General Washington, who was taken prisoner from the Indians; Dearborn, for Gen. Henry Dearborn, who was killed at the battle of Tippecanoe; DeWitt, for Gen. John DeWitt, who was killed at the battle of Tippecanoe; Dubois, for Toussaint Dubois, who had charge of the guides and spies in the Tippecanoe campaign; Owen, for Col. Abraham Owen, of Kentucky, who was killed while serving as a volunteer aid to General Harrison; Spencer, after Captain Spencer, of Harrison county, who fell in the battle; Tipton, in honor of Gen. John Tipton, who was long a public man in Indiana, dying in 1838; Warren, after Gen. Joseph Warren, who fell at the head of his company; White, for Col. Isaac White, of Gallatin county, Illinois, who volunteered his services as a private and fell in battle at the side of Major Daviess.

Benton county receives its name from the statesman, Thomas H. Benton; Cass from Lewis Cass, Blackford, in honor of Judge Isaac Blackford, long a judge of the Supreme Court of Indiana; Clay, in honor of great Henry Clay, the idol of the Whig party; Clinton, from DeWitt Clinton, Governor of New York and promoter of the great New York canal; Decatur, after the gallant Commodore Stephen Decatur.

Delaware county got its designation from the Indians; Elkhart, after St. Joseph, Tippecanoe, Wabash and Union from the rivers of those names, and Union derived its name from the hope that it would harmonize the difficulties that existed when it was organized (1821) in relation to the county seats in Wayne and Fayette counties.

Harrison county was named in honor of Gen. William Henry Harrison, in 1808, three years before he whipped the Indians at Tippecanoe, and who was the first Territorial Governor of Indiana; Jennings, after Jonathan Jennings, the first Governor of the State; Noble, for Noah Noble, who was Governor from 1831 to 1837; Hendricks, organized in 1824, was named for William Hendricks, who, at that time, was Governor; Posey, for Gen. Thomas Posey, who was appointed Governor of Indiana Territory to succeed General Harrison; Fulton is the only county in the State named in honor of an inventor, and it perpetuates the name of Robert Fulton, who gave to the world the steamboat; Vigo is named after Col. Francis Vigo, long known in the early history of Vincennes as "the Spanish merchant," but who was a most patriotic American, though a Sardinian by birth, and the efficient friend of Gen. George Rogers Clark in the capture of Vincennes; Switzerland derives its name from a settlement of Swiss that came within the bounds of the present county in 1822 and began the cultivation of the grape there; Vanderburgh, which must always be spelled with an "h," was named in honor of Henry Vanderburgh (he wrote it "Van der Burgh"), who had been a captain in the revolution and was a judge of the first court ever formed in Indiana Territory; Gibson was named for Gen. John Gibson, Secretary of the Territory from 1801 to 1816, and who repeatedly acted as Governor in the absence of Governor Harrison. He had been taken prisoner in early life by the Indians, continued among them many years, and was familiar with their language and customs. It is said that it was to him that the speech ascribed to Logan, chief of the Mingoes, was made. Rush was named in honor of the great Philadelphia physician, Dr. Benjamin Rush.

Scott county was named after Gen. Chas. Scott, a distinguished officer in the revolution, also in the Indian wars, and who was afterward Governor of Kentucky; another Indiana county, Shelby, was named for a Governor of Kentucky, Isaac Shelby, an officer of distinction in the revolutionary war and in the war of 1812. In Howard county, organized in 1844, was first named Richville (corrupted to Russellville), after the city of Miami of that name, but on the death of Gen. Tilghman A. Howard, a distinguished officer in the war of 1812, and at the time minister to Texas, the name was changed. Huntington, a delegate to the Continental Congress from Connecticut, and one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, county was named after Gen. E. W. Ripley, an officer in the war of 1812. The last county to be organized was Newton, which was in 1820. Probably not one person in a hundred knows the name of the man whose name this county comes, and yet no county in Indiana is more appropriately named. As it was taken from Jasper county, which was named for Sergeant Jasper, it was called Newton, after Gen. Newton, a friend of the hero of Fort Mifflin.

THE CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

A Great Exhibit Promised by the Local Florists—Prizes Offered for Excellence.

Indiana florists have already achieved no small amount of fame through the several chrysanthemum shows they have given, the last one having been so meritorious as to attract national attention. From Nov. 5 to 9, inclusive, these florists propose to give a chrysanthemum exhibit at Tomlinson Hall which will even excel their last year's handsome display. The president, M. A. Hunt, of Terre Haute, and Secretary Wm. G. Bertram, of this city, are able to make this prediction from what they now have in sight. Entries so far have been in every way satisfactory. Exhibits will come from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois, in addition to the Indiana entries. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs. Harrison, wife of the President of the United States. Wednesday afternoon and evening, Nov. 6, there will be the largest and most interesting exhibition of the chrysanthemums. On the first day the attention will be chiefly given to plants and cuttings, beside which will come the great event of the day, the competition in seedling chrysanthemums for the silver cup offered by Mrs.